SOIL FOR FALL-SOWN CROPS

Lack of Moisture Retards Germination—Legumes Will Do Better on Deeply Broken Land.

It being recognized that there are conditions unfavorable to good stands in the fall, it should follow that more care must be taken to overcome these unfavorable conditions, the chief of which, as indicated, is lack of moisture.

Crimson clover, bur clover and the fall-sown vetches will all do better if sown on a good seedbed, says Progressive Farmer. Or, in other words, a deep, firm and finely pulverized soil is best for these, as for all other fall-sown crops. This is the sort of seedbed that is likely to contain the most moisture, but it is also the sort of seedbed that is most difficult to obtain in the fall. Owing to the difficulty in securing a compact soil after breaking deeply, it may be put down as reasonably certain that these fall-sown legumes will usually do better when sown on soil that has not been broken deeply for at least a month or six weeks, unless the rainfall is abundant. As indicated, they will do better on a deeply broken soil, but unless this can be done far enough in advance of seeding time to insure thorough settling or firming it will, except when there is abundant moisture in the soil, generally be found best to sow crimson and bur clover, especially, which cannot be covered deeply, on land that has not been freshly broken. Vetch seed may be covered much deeper than bur or crimson clover seed, hence it is less important that it be sown on a well-compacted and finely pulverized soil.

In sowing crimson or bur clover after corn, we think the best plan is to cut and remove the corn and then disk and section harrow the land. Of course, the depth to cover the seed depends on the moisture, and yet, it must not be forgotten that if these seeds are covered very deep they will not come up, so after all it is largely a question of moisture as to whether a stand is obtained.

KEEP NOXIOUS PLANTS DOWN

Principal Reasons for Early Cultivation of Corn Are to Destroy Weeds and Conserve Moisture.

(By GEORGE LIVINGSTON, Ohio Experiment Station.)

The principal reasons for cultivating corn during the early stages of growth are to kill the weeds and conserve moisture. Weeds are undesirable in a corn field because they not only use up the water that should be left for the use of corn, but they also use up plant food. Therefore one operation may serve to kill the weeds, and also to establish an earth mulch to prevent the evaporation of water.

If a weeder or harrow is run over the field on a hot, sunny day, before the corn plants are up, it will establish the earth mulch and kill the weeds that are just starting. The weeder or harrow should be run over the field frequently until the plants are seven or eight inches high. These implements should not be used early in the morning or on cloudy days, since at this time the plant cells are filled with water and the plants are easily broken off.

RULES FOR RAISING WHEAT

Fallow Accomplishes for Dry Farmer What Early Fall Plowing Accomplishes for Average Grower.

(By L. E. CALL, Kansas Experiment Station.)

Plow early for large yields.

Early listing is better than late plowing.

Double listing is better than single listing.

Early disking followed by medium early plowing is good farm practice.

Deep early plowing is advisable.

Summer fallow is the safest practice in dry-land regions.

Summer fallow accomplishes for the dry farmer what early fall plowing accomplishes for the average wheat grower.

Rotate wheat with other crops.

Continuous wheat growing will eventually lead to disaster.

Plant only pure, clean seed.

Use barnyard manure or straw, spread lightly, as a top dressing on wheat.

Spring vs. Fall Plowing.

The average results for five years, 1909 to 1913, inclusive, show that spring plowing was better than fall plowing for moisture conservation, in yield of grain. Spring plowing gave an average yield of 18.5 bushels per acre, as compared with 16.8 bushels for fall plowing. Owing to this difference in yield and the lower cost of producing the crop, spring plowing gave a net acre profit of $3.63 more than fall plowing.—Utah Report.

Cost of Raising Chicks.

It will cost not less than 75 cents to raise a baby Brahma chick up to the point of laying. Leghorn chicks could be raised for about 50 cents, as they mature much earlier in life.

Get Rid of Mites.

The free use of kerosene or kerosene also does wonders in getting rid of mites when used thoroughly over every bit of the interior of the hen's home.

Product of American Hen.

The American hen produces more wealth in a year by six times than the gold or iron mines of the United States and she doesn't get much credit for it.

How to get the most from a pound of coffee

First, get a coffee that has been thoroughly aged when green. Proper aging changes the raw, strong taste of the bean to a mellow, rich flavor.

Next, it must be roasted by experts under perfect conditions. Skillful roasting brings out the full delicacy of the natural flavor. Unskillful roasting spoils the flavor and causes a heavy and wasteful loss in weight.

Finally, coffee must be packed in a way that will keep it fresh, and protect it from outside odors and from moisture.

In Arbuckles' Coffee you get all these advantages. You get a coffee thoroughly aged when green, skillfully and uniformly roasted; then guarded from moisture and odors in special, sanitary, sealed packages.

If you haven't used Arbuckles' Coffee lately, do so now. See what big value you get—how the delicious flavor will please and satisfy. Get a package today.
